And also the target audience is the age of 16–45 (Gen Z & Millennials, with some older vintage collectors), has a Low to middle-income, or fashion lovers who enjoy thrifting as a hobby. b. Introduction to the Website ● Why the Website Is Being Created: Our Thrift Shop website is being created to revolutionize the way people experience second-hand shopping by bringing the thrill of thrifting online. As sustainable fashion continues to grow in popularity, we want to provide an accessible digital platform where budget-conscious shoppers, vintage lovers, and eco-friendly consumers can easily discover affordable, high-quality pre-loved clothing and accessories. Unlike physical thrift stores with limited hours and inventory, our website will offer a carefully curated selection of unique finds available 24/7, complete with detailed product descriptions and quality checks. The platform will serve both casual shoppers looking for great deals and dedicated thrifters hunting for rare vintage pieces, while supporting environmental sustainability by keeping clothes in circulation. By moving online, we can reach a wider audience beyond our local community, build brand loyalty through personalized recommendations, and ultimately make thrifting more convenient and enjoyable for everyone. The website will also feature educational content about sustainable fashion to further our mission of promoting conscious consumption. ● Key Pages: 1. Homepage – Welcomes visitors with trending thrift finds, promotions, and quick access to shop categories. 2. Product Gallery – Displays all items with filters (price, size, era, style) for easy browsing. 3. Product Detail Pages – High-quality images, condition descriptions, pricing, and an "Add to Cart" button for each item. 4. About Us – Shares the shop's mission (sustainability, affordability) to build trust. 5. Blog/Guides (Optional) – Tips on thrifting, styling vintage pieces, or eco-friendly fashion. 6. Contact Page – Customer support options (email, social media, FAQ) for inquiries or issues. ● How the Website Helps Users & Meets Business Goals: For Users: Simplifies thrifting with organized categories and search filters. Provides transparent item conditions (e.g., "minor wear") to reduce purchase anxiety. Offers secure checkout* and affordable shipping for a hassle-free experience. ● For Business: Increases sales by reaching a global audience (vs. limited local foot traffic). Reduces overhead costs with a digital storefront (no physical rent/utilities). Builds brand loyalty through educational content (e.g., "Why Thrift?" blog). Supports sustainability goals by promoting circular fashion visibly.

c. Materials

- For this project, we used the following programming languages to create and design the website:
 - HTML
 - CCS
- For this project, we used the following apps and website to create and design the website:
 - LAPTOP
 - VISUAL STUDIO CODE
 - Google Chrome
 - W3Schools.com
 - Canva
 - HTML Color Codes
 - WEB Tutorials

THEME:

- Overall Aesthetic: Modern, Minimalist, and Clean Aesthetic with a focus on sustainability and vintage fashion
- Color Scheme: Primary Colors: Neutral tones (white, soft beige, light gray) dominate, creating a clean and airy backdrop.
- Accent Colors: Earthy or muted tones (like warm browns from the vintage bag image) complement the sustainable theme.
- Text Colors: Black or dark gray for readability, with occasional bold contrasts for headings.

	● Target Theme: The target theme is to have a playful, soft-focused graphics which hopefully comes across as friendly and inviting for all ages ● Font Style/s: Quicksands and Sans-serifs ● Header Text : Quicksands ● Body Text: Sans-serifs ● Font Size/s: 10px ● Logo/Brand Name : 50px-50px ● Navigation : 2px-4px ● Body Text: 1.6px ● Buttons: 30px-600
CSS STRUCTURE	The CSS styling combines Tailwind CSS for utility-based layout and custom CSS for unique components and animations. The stylesheet is embedded in the document head for efficiency in this single-page application. CSS variables (--primary-color, --text-color, etc.) maintain consistency across the design, allowing easy theme adjustments. Classes (e.g., .product-card, .btn) define reusable component styles, while IDs (#cart-dropdown, #sidebar) target specific interactive elements controlled by JavaScript. The styling follows a mobile-first approach, using Flexbox for navigation menus, product card layouts, and footer organization, while CSS Grid structures the product collection into responsive columns. Aesthetic enhancements include a soft blue color scheme for a calm, trustworthy feel, subtle shadows for depth, and rounded corners for a friendly appearance. Smooth transitions and hover effects improve interactivity, providing visual feedback when users click buttons or navigate the site. The design is fully responsive, with a collapsible sidebar for mobile users and flexible grid layouts that adapt to different screen sizes. Overall, the CSS ensures a visually appealing, user-friendly experience while maintaining clean, maintainable code.
